

Road Traffic Accident Claims

If you were injured in a road accident as a result of the negligence of another party you are likely to be legally entitled to compensation. This would apply whether you were driver, passenger or pedestrian.

Although initially the claim would be made against the negligent motorist, it would be handled by their Insurance Company who would negotiate the claim with us and pay any damages/costs which are agreed or awarded.

It may also be possible to pursue a claim where the negligent motorist is either uninsured or cannot be traced (see Motor Insurers Bureau).

Ask for a Free Legal Assessment of your Claim and see what whether you may be entitled to damages.

- Whiplash/Personal injury
- Passenger Injury Claims
- Neck and back pain
- Shoulder pain
- Head injury
- Fatigue/sleep disorder